EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

Common Questions

What if I already applied somewhere else?

Please still apply for your assigned unit. If your other application is not approved, this assigned unit provides another housing option and helps prevent eviction.

What if I refuse the assigned unit?

You are not required to accept the assigned unit. However, if you remain in your current unit after 3/31/2026 HACC will file an eviction case in court. By assigning you a unit, HACC has met its obligation to offer replacement housing.

What if I don't like the unit or it doesn't meet all my needs?

Unit assignments are based on the voucher size your household qualifies for. While we try to provide appropriate options, we cannot guarantee that the unit will meet all preferences or specific needs.

Continue Searching

You may continue searching for other housing. Your Voucher remains valid until its expiration date. If you need more time, you must request an extension in writing before the voucher expires. Extensions to your voucher search time will not extend the vacate date of 3/31/2026
